To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing in regards to Michael-Chase Strollo, whom I have had the pleasure of knowing since he was a sophomore in Johns Creek High School more than 10 years ago. During this time, I have witnessed Michael's growth, both personally and professionally, and have been continually impressed by his character and dedication to the community.

I first met Michael when he was in the Junior ROTC program at the high school, where I also was involved in the school's cheerleading program. I was quickly impressed at how he stood out as a disciplined and motivated young man. His commitment to the principles of the ROTC program was evident in his actions and demeanor, and he consistently demonstrated qualities of leadership, responsibility, and integrity. Michael's participation in the program was marked by his enthusiasm and a strong sense of duty, which earned him the respect of his peers and instructors alike.

In 2013, I had the privilege of having Michael run my election campaign when I was a candidate for the City Council in Johns Creek. Despite his young age, Michael displayed exceptional organizational and strategic skills. He managed various aspects of the campaign with remarkable efficiency and professionalism, from coordinating volunteers to developing and implementing effective campaign strategies. His ability to stay calm under pressure and his unwavering dedication played a significant role in the success of my campaign.

Michael's work ethic and ability to connect with people were particularly noteworthy. He engaged with community members with genuine interest and respect, always willing to listen and address their concerns. His positive attitude and strong communication skills were instrumental in building a solid support base and fostering a sense of community involvement.

Throughout the years, Michael has shown himself to be a person of high moral character, driven by a desire to make a positive impact in his community. His leadership capabilities, combined with his commitment to service, make him an outstanding person who I call a friend.

If you have any questions or if I can elaborate on Michael's strong character, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
